

CAULIFLOWER ITALIS

A true winter variety, ITALIS produces a large frame to support the production of high quality curds during the low light and cooler conditions experienced during winter.

ITALIS has an upright frame with well wrapped leaves that ensure good protection of the curds, maintaining the vibrant white colour.

A concentrated harvest and good uniformity of head size are key features of ITALIS.

The curds have a domed shape at maturity and are of good weight.
